

I understand that certain changes are being considered which would somehow allow other broadcasters to replace existing broadcasters such as K-LOVE Radio, a Christian music provider. I believe that the balance achieved by the offerings of K-LOVE Radio is important to our culture. The Christian radio alternative has an important impact on those families who prefer not to be swayed by what secular society tells is good and acceptable, as portrayed by many of today's popular artists and talk show hosts. The fact that K-LOVE Radio is entirely listener supported financially should prove that there is enough value to their programming to make it easily available to those who desire it. Please do whatever is necessary to keep broadcasters such as K-LOVE available for those who desire them.
